Tough Mudder — Fundraiser purchases

Last week we purchased some sand toys— in particular Tonka toys. These were purchased with the funds from last year’s ‘Tough Mudder’ fundraiser

Staffing Term 3
Annette Sutherland will be on Long Service Leave for the first 4 weeks of term 3, during Annette’s absence Kerry Williams will be Acting Principal. Claire O’Brien will teach in the Blue Homegroup during this time. Leanne Hodge will be on leave for the first 4 weeks of term 3, Sharon Faulds will replace Leanne during this time.

Warragul Swap Meet — Fundraiser
The Warragul Swap Meet is a major fundraiser for Nilma Primary School. This event will be held on Sunday 5th July at the Warragul Showgrounds. Thankyou to parents who have already returned forms. More helpers are needed to make this a success! Please contact Nicki Kimm for more information on 0427 563 009.

School Building Work — Over Holidays
Over the holidays we will be having some works completed in the school car park. The retainer wall will be replaced and a set of steps is being installed in the medium strip adjacent to the crossing. This will enable safer movement when accessing cars in the mid strip of the car park.

Reporting to Parents on Student Achievement
Thanks to all the parents/guardians who have attended the Parent Teacher Discussions. Our new SENTRAL reporting package proved to be very user friendly for staff. The student portfolios provided evidence of what your child/ren can achieve. In the future we will be hoping to open the parent portal to develop new ways of communicating student achievement to parents. If you have concerns, please don’t hesitate to give feedback as we will also be able to develop more suitable feedback practices throughout the year.

HOMEGROUP HAPPENINGS!

Platypus

A platypus has webbed feet and a tail like a beaver. They live near streams and lakes in parts of Australia. They eat worms and other small animals that live in the water. The female lays eggs and feed their young milk. They dig burrows.

By Oliver

Tasmanian Devil

The Tasmanian Devil have dark fur with some white fur. The Tasmanian Devil jaws bite through bones. They screech loudly. Tasmanian Devils are nocturnal. They hunt at night and spend the day in a burrow. They have a pouch.

Gallipoli

by Aiden Olsson ....(cont’d)
The stretcher bearers collected the wounded soldiers and took them to the nurses on hospital ships to take care of the men. One of the stretcher bearers used his donkey to carry the wounded. His name was Simpson who became a legend and you’ll find him in another story! As the stretcher bearers and nurses worked away the soldiers kept fighting up the hill, half of them digging tunnels and digging trenches into the hill for full protection. If they were pushed back down the hill to the beach the Turks would win the battle. Once the Anzacs got to the top of the hill they used the trenches to shelter and fight. As some Anzacs started walking down Shrapnel Gully they came across some boulders and behind those boulders were two Turkish soldiers ready to fire but the Australian troops were also ready. All of a sudden the Turkish popped out of there hiding spots and fired and as they reloaded their weapons the Australian troops fired back at them and hit their targets. …………………..The war went on at Gallipoli for 9 more months until the Australians were forced by the Turkish defenders to retreat and go home.

Descriptive Texts

Students have been working in Literacy Learning Teams to develop their descriptive writing skills.

Jeff the pig is dirtier than a mud hole. His breath smells like rotten food. He eats like Alex eating. He is fatter than a boulder. He smells like dog poo. Jeff runs with it butt going side to side like a robot moving side to side really fast. He looks pinker than the colour pink.

By Mitch Chesterfield.

Mia is 14 weeks old. The colour of her fur is turtle shell. Whenever you get out her food she will be like an assassin because she jumps out at you. It is so funny but she still scratches me a lot. Every night she runs around like a race car racing round the house.

Japanese

This week in Japanese students played some traditional Japanese games. The students split into three teams and had a go at earning points for their group. It was lots of fun, and really great to see the students working together as teams to earn points.

Dear Parents,

The Stephanie Alexander Kitchen Garden Program is only going to be continuing with the Blue grade 3,4,5 next semester. The program has been enthusiastically received by students in both the Blue and Yellow classes, however we do require 4 volunteers for each session and at times this has been very difficult. Whilst the program is recognised as a year 3 and 4 program, we took the liberty to extend the program to year 5 and 6.

Nilma Primary School has committed to the Stephanie Alexander Kitchen Garden Foundation to implement the program for 2 years with grades 3 and 4 students. The program requires volunteers to come and support small groups of students in the Kitchen or garden. It has now been running for 12 months and it has been a struggle to get enough volunteers from our parent base. As a result of an invite I sent to the Permaculture group at the beginning of the year, we have been lucky to attract Peter Kirkbride, Catriona Ferguson and Lara Whitehead who have committed to help every week when they can. They are not associated to Nilma Primary School in any way, but see the immense value of helping young people develop a positive relationship to food by growing, harvesting, preparing and sharing. Ideally we like volunteers to commit to at least 4 consecutive weeks.

We understand our parents are busy and are not always able to help out on the Thursdays – the day the program runs. We also know it is not for everybody, but we think you may be able to help by encouraging the wider community to volunteer. There are many things we can do, but we need help to do them. Things like asking extended members of the school community like friends or grandparents to help or writing editorials for the newspaper.

We will open our garden as part of Gardivalia Open Gardens in October. We expect between 300 and 500 people to visit on Saturday 23rd October who are interested in food gardens or the Stephanie Alexander Kitchen Garden Program. We are hoping this will inspire people to volunteer in the program. You may be interested in helping out on the day by collecting the entry fee, organising a raffle, manning a stall or anything else you may think of.

If we have more parents or volunteers we can extend the program again as we have in the past.

In anticipation of your understanding and support,

Jessie McLennan

SYNOPSIS

Tristan, a confident, resourceful (but slightly impatient) boy from our time, wakes up in the year 528 AD, in Camelot. He is viewed with suspicion by Merlin, who fears competition from a foreign wizard, but, through his resourcefulness (pretending to take away the sun during an eclipse) Tristan becomes ‘Boss’ of Camelot and sets about modernising the country and bringing a ‘new order’ to medieval England. But he does not listen to the locals and not all his decisions are appropriate. Accidentally insulting Sir Sagramore, he is commanded to undertake a quest to become a Knight and then face a joust with the champion Sagramore. Again, through ingenuity, he wins. But the peasants do not approve of his unusual methods...and his new empire is beginning to crumble. He must leave Camelot and allow history to take its course.

We may add more characters early next term too.
Always look on the bright side
In the chapter entitled Self Talk we discuss the idea of your child speaking positively to themselves. This chapter is looking at you, as their parent, speaking positive words too.

As we go around life it is often the easy option to both notice the negative and to comment on it (As a parent you’ll know if you do this – it more usually starts with “You always…” OR “How many times…” and becomes a bit of a mantra as it rolls off your tongue several times a day.). Yet there is always a heap of positive stuff happening as well – it just passes under our radar and habit takes over. Develop a repertoire of phrases that you can use to boost your child’s confidence and therefore their motivation.

When was the last time you told them that they made you feel proud? Or when you got alongside them and suggested that they didn’t give up now and that they were well able of completing the task they were doing? How long since you gave them a hug and told them that you loved them? These things will give your son/daughter a boost and inspire them to achieve higher heights.

Praise them for their achievements but also for their efforts. There are many times when your child will fail but even during those times there will be places where you can find the possibility to praise them and speak positively – even if it is how well they pick themselves up after falling. You can assure them that failing isn’t the end and that they have the skills and abilities to learn from their mistakes and do things better next time. As we know, some of our best lessons that provide us with great insights were learnt when we failed in the past.

Additionally you will be demonstrating the need for a positive outlook in life and the benefits of good behaviour. We have the ability, with the words that we use, to shape our children’s worldview and to strengthen each child’s self-esteem.

Mid-year break is here. You’ve done a great job getting the kids to school and organising lunches and so on. (Maybe if the kids are reading this they might bring you breakfast in bed as a means of saying ‘thank you’ who knows?) Enjoy the change of pace and stay safe. Anne Prime

PREMIERS’ READING CHALLENGE
Congratulations to Ella Perry & Kiara Perry who are the first students to complete the Reading Challenge for 2015. This is a fantastic effort by these students to show initiative and a willingness to challenge themselves in their home reading. Well Done! Students in years F-2 experience sharing books together in class while students in years 3-6 are to read 15 books from the challenge list with many students getting closer to their target number.

Students are able to have their name published in the Honour List that is published in The Age newspaper at the completion of the challenge. For students to be a part of this they require a signed consent form to be returned to school. Thank you to those that have already returned their form. If you would like your child/ren to have their name published in the Honour Roll then please return a signed consent form to school. More forms are available from the office.

For more information about the Victorian Premiers’ Reading Challenge and to view the booklists, visit: www.education.vic.gov.au/prc

EARN & LEARN
From July 15th, you can earn one Earn & Learn point for our school for every $10 you spend at Woolworths. You can collect Earn & Learn Points from the checkout operator and place them on a Point Sheet. The Safeway Earn & Learn box will be kept in the office.

The more points you bring in, the more we can redeem from a choice of educational resources including library books, classroom equipment, art & craft materials.

Why is breakfast important?
It’s the most important meal of the day – but one in four children in Australia skips breakfast. At school, a hungry child can lose concentration in class, have no energy for playtime and maybe more likely to snack on unhealthy foods, such as chips or biscuits.

Try some easy breakfast ideas:

Wholemeal toast, cereals and eggs all provide the power (energy) kid’s bodies needs to get through the morning.

Milk and other dairy products are especially good for growing bodies and healthy bones. Use a blender to mix fruit and milk into a smoothie full of goodness.

Cut up fresh fruit and give it to the kids with yoghurt, and a piece of toast. Make a peanut butter sandwich and a banana.

Nilma Primary will be catering at the Warragul Swap Meet at the Warragul Showgrounds on Sunday 5th July 2015 for fundraising purposes.

SWAP MEET ROSTER

Attached below is a parent roster. If parents are able to help on the day, please contact Nicki Kimm on 0427 563 009.

Not only is this a great opportunity for our school, but it’s a great way for parents to meet and to also check out the bargains at the Swap Meet! There are many jobs on the day to be done, from cooking and serving, to filling supplies and making hot drinks. No experience is necessary, just a smile and a warm jacket!
