We are working hard this term in Green homegroup! We have continued to focus on our persuasive writing during our literacy time and the students have begun to develop their own persuasive writing pieces. It is wonderful to see so much progress being made!

During our numeracy time we are continuing our work on place value, with students beginning to investigate the place value of digits in a 3 digit number (hundreds, tens and ones). We have completed our shapes unit and the students showed excellent growth. We will be finishing the term off with our unit on measurement.

This fortnight in mathematics, students in Blue Home Group have been exploring place value, learning the different ways that numbers can be represented. Students have practised ordering, modelling, expanding and renaming three, four and five digit numbers and have applied these skills to a range of maths games and activities.

Within measurement, students have learnt about length including the units and both informal and formal ways to measure. Students applied their knowledge of length and have created a page in their Mathematician's Notebooks showcasing their creativity. It has been fantastic to see students enjoying their learning!

SCHOOL CHAPLAIN CHAT!

The Quiet Space /Wellness Office, is the perfect space to get away from the busyness of the playground at lunch time and to just chill out.

Some days, we all need to find a quiet place to regroup. Our students sometimes feel that the noise and activity of the playground is a little too much to cope with. That's when they can come to the quiet room and reset for the afternoon classes.

Michael and Blair had a rewarding time putting this jigsaw together. They didn't think they could do it but with a bit of encouragement they succeeded with much cheering.

Fun fun fun...

Remember being a kid and enjoying the fun of the lucky dip at the Fete?

The year four girls, who have been in the SPARC program, will be conducting Lucky Dip for the students on 5th April, the second last day of term.

Each "dip" will cost 50cents and children can have multiple dips if they wish. It is a fundraising activity the girls are doing for the school.

The proceeds we would like to donate to the STEAM room art supplies, to replenish the textas as they are drying up and wearing out.

MARC LIBRARY NEWS

During MARC library sessions the Yellow and Blue homegroups have been exploring strategies to choose their next read. They have looked at different book series and books by popular authors including David Walliams and Anh Do. Students have been encouraged to try books from different genres.

Green Homegroup are reading and comparing books by author Bob Graham, a favourite so far is Jigsaw, an amazing book about resilience. Red Homegroup are exploring a variety of books and learning about being a responsible borrower, animal books have been a favourite. It has been great seeing so many students returning their books weekly, fantastic work Nilma Kids and School Community!

Performing Arts

It's been a terrific few weeks in the Performance Arts space. Yellow group are getting nervously enthusiastic about auditions. They'll get the chance to practise their audition scenes with others in the coming weeks. Jump on board parents and help set your kids up for success by playing with the characters at home.

Auditions will be on the last Thursday of term.

Red and Green groups created a map of Nogard, the 'Herb the Vegetarian Dragon', world last week. They'll be having to think on ethical dilemmas around difference and peer pressure in the coming weeks.

Blue group are still 'making stuff up' with style. Last week they started learning the importance of 'yes and...' which helps them to accept and give acting gifts to and from each other.

Their challenge coming up is to 'make their partner look good' which is harder than it sounds.

You're doing a great job people, keep up the enthusiasm.

OSHC News

OSHC newsletter March 2023

The past few weeks we have introduced lots of new and old activities!

On one Friday afternoon we set up a game of Minute to Win it with several different activities to complete in under one minute, using materials such as cups, icy pole sticks, dry pasta, beads and cards.

As well as lots of construction, board games, sandpit play and Twister, the students have also spent some afternoons completing 'smoosh' artworks, using acrylic paints and a layer of glad wrap to use their fingers to blend colours and create textures. We also made some of our own 'cloud dough' to use in pretend play coffee shops and kitchens.

We have introduced the zones of regulation for when the students arrive to after school care.

Students are given their token to anonymously place into the cup that corresponds to how they are currently feeling.

The students have responded really well and even change the placement of their tokens throughout the afternoon.

Healthy Lunchboxes

We know that feeding children with the healthy foods helps support their growth and development. But there is a growing body of research showing that what children eat can affect not only their physical health but also their mood, mental health and learning.

The research suggests that eating a healthy and nutritious diet can improve mental health, enhance cognitive skills like concentration and memory, and improve academic performance.

Giving your children a healthy lunchbox is a great start to boost their learning, concentration and active play.
